Empirical research concerning financial markets is currently hindered by several factors, among others the high access costs to financial and stock exchange data and the difficulty to obtain quality data.

The first mission of VNEFRC is to create verified, controlled, homogeneous and integrated databases over long periods, the same way Center for the Research on Security Prices (CRSP does with American data or European Financial Data Institute (EUROFIDAI) for European side.

DATA

The database covers different areas: economics, commodities, currencies, interest rates, bonds, equities, indexes, mutual funds, ... for vietnamese and international markets.

Financial data are multiple: market data (price, return, activity, risk, corporate events, ...), ownership (state, foreign, ...), executives Board (Position, gender, experience, education, ...) and fundamental ratios (ROE, ROA, PER, Price to Book, Tobin'sQ, ...). Vietnam data covers about 900 companies since 2000, and international data is available for more than 20,000 companies since 1999.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL DATABASE

The second mission consists of building a bibliographical database on the research production in finance in universities and research centers, indexing finance theses and working papers, along with links to the original documents. This bibliographical database is useful for the literature review stage before starting any research.

COMPUTING CAPABILITIES

The third mission is to offer high output computing capabilities, available to researchers who are interested in short term access to high performance and volume computing. With cloud computing technology and servers, the VNEFRC can provide researchers with an on demand computer cluster for the required short period.

The document database facilitates the search for research papers and publications. Our database saves the purchase of data, organizing data, and the processing time. Statistical tools and empirical tests available on the platform make empirical research accessible even to non-technical researchers.

The developed web application, available features and power servers allow financial and time savings, to conduct research quality, most comprehensive and fastest in many areas.
